

Dear reader and author:

We begin with this number, a new stage of BMI-Journal:

- Two months ago we were accepted and catalogued in DOAJ (Directory Open Access Journal), which is the equivalent to PUBMED in the group of the magazines Open Access.
- As you will already know, the scientific publications Open Access, represent a new movement seeking the free and global access to the scientific contents. They are mainly promoted by non-profit universities and scientific communities. This type of publications, can be accepted in the directory DOAJ, only when they fulfil the strict rules of quality and institutional support.
- Also, inside of the modalities Open Access, we have established the most advantageous for the author, whereby, although surrenders publication rights, the author remains the owner of the article in purposes of disclosure as it considers and the only limitation is not to be able to publish it in other scientific magazines.
- This is the first number of BMI-Journal, which is published both in Spanish and English, which is a fundamental aspect in order to spread its contents to a global level. The translation of the articles will be supported by FUNSECO during the first year, and subsequently it will be requested to each author.
- Finally, as a way of “celebration” for our improvements, we have changed completely the format of the magazine, as well as its acronym BMI-latina to BMI-Journal.

We find ourselves in a moment of growth of the prestige of BMI-Journal, thanks to especially to the involvement of our authors and altruist cooperation of the reviewers. But also for the editorial group work, and for the impulse of SECO/FUNSECO. Looking forward to continue with excellent contents and articles.

With kind regards.
